A GOLDEN WEDDING

mappy Reunion at the Fiftieth Celebra tion of Mr. and Mrs. Schenck. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

OAK TRIEE, VAL Sept. 15.—Just fifty years ago to-day there stood before one of God's hely ministers, near the little village of Dayton, New Jersey, a youth and maiden, who, with happy hearts, pledged their faith to each other before God, and man.

Their mames are William B. Schenek and Emeline Dean, and to-day they celebrate their "schlen wedding."

It is thue, till time has made its changes, but still we find them as loyal and true and loving as when first they pledged their troth over a half century pledged their troth over a half century and true children, blessed their union, and in the autumn of 1870 this family left their their friends and relatives in New Jersey and moved down to "Old Virginia" to make for themselves a new home, and a veritable host of new friends.

They built their home on the old tract of "Christians" and there, surrounded by their children and their children's families, have resided ever since.

The York River Presbyterian Church was built principally through the uniting efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Schenck and a few other failnful Christians, being dedicated in the year 1872.

Mr. Schenck has been an elder and a failtiful worker in church and the sing dedicated in the year 1872.

Mr. Schenck has been an elder and a failtiful worker in church and the blessing to us all. Two of their children, the oldest daughter and youngest son, how rest in the little yard of the church where with their parents, they had worker by their two are married and is. On as to be with their parents.

Mr. Schenck and his word in the stay and comfort of their children was a home, with her parents, they had word in the stay and comfort of their children pown living.

Mr. and Mrs. Schenck despite their years, are healthy and strong, and lead an active, useful He.

They love to be schency young needle, or, though their hair may be grey and their bright eyes beginning to grow dim, bet their hearts keep young and chertuit.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HOT SPRINGS, V.A., September 15.—
A quiet, but pretty wedding occurred this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock at the residence of the well known physician, Dr. Henry S. Pole, when his daughter, Miss Edith Pauline Pole, was married to Dr. Thomas Shephard Richardson. Dr. Pole has a wide practice, including wealthy patients who come here from all over the country, especially and Newport, and his daughter's wedding will create wide interest on his own account.

Owing to the recent death of the groom's father, the invitations were withdrawn, except those of the relatives and intimate friends.

The rooms were handsomely trimped with golden-rod and other autumn flowers and foliage, while the dining room was banked with roses and palms, with vines o' smilax, reaching from the chandeller to the table corners. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Cary Beckwith, of Richmond, assisted by Rov. John G. Scott. The former plans of the wedding were carried out. Miss Mary Pole, a sister of the bride, being maid of honor, and six of her friends acting as bridesmalds. The bride wore a dainty gown of white liberty satin, tuile veil and carried a bouquet of Bride's roses. The maid of honor were yellow flowers. The bridesmalds wore white slik mull. Best man was Dr. Van Buren McCrea, of Richmond. There were many handsome

(By Associated Press.)
CENTERVILLE, MISS., Sept. 15.—William Williams, a negro, was lynched on Main Street here to-day by a mob of several hundred people. Williams, who was a labor agent had been here several days employing negroes for contractors in other sections of the State, and it is alleged that he enticed several employes to leave. James H. Germany remonstrated with him about his conduct. A quarrel followed and Williams drew a revolver and shot Germany. The negro attempted to escape, but a mob was quickly on his heels and the negro was captured and shot to death.

AN APPARENTLY NEW STAR IS DISCOVERED

Mr. F. F. Valotine directs the attention of the Times-Dispatch reporters to a bright star in the southern skies about midway between the horizon and the 20n-1th and almost due south. The peculiarity of the star is its brightness and the hazy, nebulous light surrounding it or just below it, like a small section of the via lacetca. As the astronomical reporter of the paper never keeps vigil with the stars, this planet and its peculiar appearance are not explained, unless it is the much-talked-of comet that recently appeared in the northern skies.

PREDERICK SIBURG, VA., Sept. 15.—

Hon. M. K. Lowery, present delegate in the Legislature from the district of Stafford and King George counties, who is a Republican, has announced himself a candidate for re-election before the people at the general election on November

It is probable that the Democrats will nominate Judge R. H. L. Chichester, of Stafford, in opposition, and in that event the contest will be a lively one.

TROUBLES PROMPTLY CURED HEARING OF RAILROADS

Many Appear Before the Corporation Commission.

SOME WHO WERE PRESENT

The Body to Continue its Sitting To-Day and for Several Days-Charters Granted Yesterday and Others Recorded.

The railways of the State hre being given a hearing before the Corporation Commission in the matter of the prospoctive new assessment of rallway proper ties within this State, a work in which the commission is now engaged. These hearings are similar to those given by the old Board of Public Works, the presessment work. Usually the representa tives of the various lines appear, and argue against any increase of their assessments, quoting their financial statements in support of their contention that the roads have all the taxation that their business and financial conditions justify. In no case are the railways asing for any reduction on the old tax rate, and generally there is little protent against the new assessments, and that is usually a plea for the retention of that of last year.

The hearing of all the steam railways of the State will be completed to-day, and after that the electric railways, the telegraph, telephone and express companies tives of the various lines appear, and ar-will be heard on succeeding days of days to be announced hereafter. The hearing to-day will begin at 19:39 A. M.

ROADS REPRESENTED.

At yesterday's hearing the New York, reliable to appear. It was represented by Judge Thomas H. Willcox, its counsel, and by Mr. Robert B. Cooke, its traillomanager, both of whom argued forcefully against any increase in assessment.

The Chesapeake and Ohio railway's representative was Mr. Garrett Wall, of its reality, department. Mr. M. C. Jameson, compitroller of the Norfolk and Wesern railway, appeared for that line, and Mr. H. W. Miller, assistant to the vice-president of the Southern railway, appeared for that line. The Southern's vice-president, Col. A. B. Andrews, who had come up from Raileigh to appear before the commission, was slightly intend in a railway collision and did not appear, returning to Raileigh instead. Mr. Miller is also from Raileigh, Hon. Al-

The Ingram fire started up afresh when the letter "M" was reached, and the Manchester judge had another sweep for some time. The Merediths divided, Hon. Charles V. having voted for Moneure and Mr. W. R. for Judge Ingram.

Drack Organization to Furnish the Music-Handsome Prizes. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LYNCHBURG, VA., Sept. 15 .- It is now LYNCHBURG, VA., Sept. 15.—It is now definitely settled that Lynchburg is to have the Marine Band at her Horse Show in October. Major Daniel returned from Washington one day this week, where he saw Assistant Secretary Darling, of the Navy, who assured him that there would be no trouble about securing the necessary leave of absente for the men to enable them to attend.

The band will arrive in Lynchburg on sary leave of absence for the increase and the them to attend.

The band will arrive in Lynchburg on the night of Juesday, October 6th, and remain here throughout the four days of the show.

Already assurances of enough entries have been received to insure for Lynchburg one of the largest shows ever held in the State.

All the railroads in the State have made.

in the State.

All the railroads in the State have made
a one-fare rate for the dates of the show;
tickets will be placed on sale on Tuerday, October 6th with a final limit to October lith. An effort is being made to have the Norfolk and Western and Southern Railways run a special train from Roanoke and Danville for each of the five performances.

The indications are that if the weather is good, Lynchburg will have one of the larget crowds of visitors in her history on October 7th, 8th, 9th and 19th.

The prizes offered this year at Lynchburg are so large that troops of horses from the best horse shows in the country will compete. The list of competing horses will be superb in quality, and there will not be a vacant stall on the premises.

A PRETTY ROMANCE

ENDS IN MARRIADE

A pretty romance is revealed in the marriage last Friday in Noblesville, Ind., of Miss Carrie Phillips, of that pince, to Mr. John Russell, assistant superintendent of the Virginia and North Carolina Whoel Works.

Mr. Russell went to Noblesville last week; yesterday he returned with his bride, and they will make their home on Church Hill.

The young lady was affianced to John Seay, a former Fulton boy, who was killed December 3, 1801, at Noblesville, A man named Faudree was tried for the crime, but was acquirted. Miss Phillips came to Fulton in January 1802, to visit the Seay family. She remained until July and during that time her acquaintance with Mr. Russell began.
